

BOOKS ON LIVING WITH A DISABILITY

I Can...Can You? by Marjorie W. Pitzer

Woodbine House Ages 0-3

Photos of babies who happen to have Down's Syndrome.

Hi, I'm Ben! ...And I've Got a Secret! by Julia Bouwkamp

Band of Angela Ages 3-8

Ben shows you his daily life in photographs revealing only at the end that he has Down's Syndrome.

Don't Call Me Special: A First Look at Disability by Pat Thomas

Barron's Educational Series Ages 4-8

Information about disabilities, the types of equipments a person with a disability might need. Information is provided in an easy to understand and straight-forward.

Someone Special, Just Like You by Tricia Brown

Henry Holt & Co. Ages 4-8

Photos of children show us what unites us rather than the what makes us each unique.

What's Wrong with Timmy? by Maria Shriver

Little, Brown Ages 4-8

A mother explains to her daughter that while Timmy is handicapped he still wants the same things as Kate does: playing with friends, being with family and going to school.

Be Quiet, Marina! by Kirsten DeBear

Star Bright Books Ages 4-8

Two children, two different disabilities, one friendship.

THAT'S LIKE ME!: Stories about Amazing People with Learning Differences by Jill Lauren

Star Bright Books Ages 7-12

15 kids and adults share their stories about learning disabilities and what they do to succeed.

Anna & Natalie by Barbara H. Cole

Star Bright Books Ages 4-8

Anna is determined to be chosen for a team despite being blind.

Let's talk About It: Extraordinary Friends by Fred Rogers

Putnam Ages 4-8

Photographs and clear text provide a way to explain to children about disabilities.

My Buddy by Audrey Ofosky

Henry Holt & Co. Ages 4-8

A boy with muscular dystrophy is helped by his service dog, Buddy.